

News Release: January 3, 2011

Kalamazoo Chiropractor Dr. Deborah M. Frett, D.C. announces the addition of in-clinic Massage Therapy to her Portage Road practice.

“With the addition of a dedicated Massage Therapy Practitioner at my office, I can provide seamless muscular-skeletal care to my patients in a one-stop clinic”, reports Doctor Deborah Frett. “This eliminates the need to schedule Massage Therapy at another clinic and with another front-office; and it ensures that the muscle and tissue therapy is fully integrated into the Chiropractic Care I have been providing to my patients during my 23 years in practice”.

According to Doctor Frett, “The addition of a Board Certified Massage Therapist to my practice was made in response to patient requests and needs”, continues Dr. Frett, “and the selection of Mr. Dan DeBoer as the newest addition to our staff is intended to round out the scope of services now available to patients”.

“Dan DeBoer is a Certified Massage Therapist and graduate of the Kalamazoo Center of Healing Arts where he completed over 600 hours of massage training before honing his skills in his own practice”, Dr. Frett continues. “Dan is the son of a Pastor in the Christian Reformed Church, is an entrepreneur, small business owner, husband, and father of four college-aged children (who, he proudly reports, he home-schooled), lives in the Kalamazoo area, and enjoys spending time on his farm, raising and boarding horses, gardening, and volunteering in outreach ministries”.

“Dan is going to be a great asset to our practice”, reports Dr. Frett, “and available appointments are quickly becoming filled”.

Dr. Frett is a 1987 graduate of the Palmer College of Chiropractic – the Premier and Original school of Chiropractic medicine – and she has been practicing in Kalamazoo for her entire career.

Additional information is available on the practice’s website: www.FrettChiropractic.com – or by contacting her office manager, Mary Beth Holewinski at (269) 343-2300.

Offices are at 1509 Portage Street (corner of Egleston) in Kalamazoo, MI 49001 – office hours are: MWF: 8 ~ 5; Tuesday: 2 ~ 5 PM
